THE STATUS OF WOMAN IN CHINA

A pitiable picture of the condition of women in China is given in an account pubhahed in another column of a case Shanghai in which a young wife had left her husband's home on account of ill-treatment by her mother-in-law. The writer of the articles which recently appeared in the N. C. Duily News on "The Natural History the Chinese Girl" showed us what a lovless lot was that of the young wife in China subjected as she is to the discipline of the mother-in-law, who generally seems. to consider a course of breaking in necessary. When the ill-treatment becomes unbearab the victim not infrequently commits ruicide, the number of young married females who thus put on end to their existence China-boing extraordinarily large. Could anything be more odious than this idea of an official sale of a recalcitrant wife? The case of the unfortunate Chang Lun-shi is one that might be studied with advantage by those who, like Sir J HE Pope HENNESSY, consider China "the freest country in the world."

foot wall of the lode. With regard to the sudden accession of water, which is reported to have broken through and filled the shaft, and thus suspended operations—this is of course a misfortune, but is probably by no means a serious matter, or the difficulties to be overcome greater then are the usual experiences in similar Cornish and other mines. A powerful pump will perhaps be necessary, but probably not specially large | Cash in hand -one with a planger of say 9 to 10 inches diameter by 3 to 4 ft. stroke would in all likelihood rapidly reduce the water to a normal flow." Your directors are -very much indebted to Mr Warren for the above expression of opinion, and for the very complete detail plants of the Company's mines, which are on the table and which will ue doubt be examined by you with much interest. We are now awaiting further particulars as to what is required at the mine, and on receipt of the information steps will be immediately taken to send whatever may be needed; and in all probability our local Dock Company will be able in the short space of a month to supply our wants. The telegram received on the 20th instant to the effect that rock had been met all over the west level was considered a satisfactory indication that favourable ground was come upon, and this view is confirmed by the manager in a letter received yesterday. With regard to machinery your Directors see no reason to alter their previous decision to delay the purchase of a plant until the character of the ore to be treated is known. I may state, however, that much information as to the different processes adopted and kind of machinery now in use, has been the presence in England of Mr J. It is especially satisfactory as half-past 3 o'clock, p.m., on Thursday, the 4th shewing the estimation in which the Company and its Selams property are held by the Government :- The year under review has been remarkable for the attention given to lode mining. All those who have visited Selams and can speak with authority, maintain the existence of a valuable tin lode, but opinions differ as to the direction it takes and the best way of getting it." This, gentlemen, is all the information I have to lay before you to-day, I have carefully refrained from giving you any exaggerated idea of the value of your property; se that value has still to be proved. They set forth your property and also the various shafts that have been sunk before. They show how the water has been met with; a thing that is only what you have to expect in tin mining. If you have seen, as I have, any of the large tin mines in Cornwall and the enormous primping engines required, you would hardly expect to have a tinmine of any size or importance without a great deal of water. I consider, that the water in this mine is a very good sign. As to the position of the shaft, it seems to me it was judiciously chosen, especially the idea of having two lodes; but I must say it seems questionable to me whether you will get two lodes. Still, the shaft in any care will be always of use, even if you have at some future time to sink another. Seeing how much money you have, I should be inclined to recommend that another shaft should be started, so that if you are going to send down additional pumps to meet an emergency you will be supplied in that respect for two shafts in ordinary work. MAJOR AMPUTATIONS .- There were four eases during the year, one of the arm and one of the thigh for extensive disease of the elbow and knee joint respectively, and one of the fore-arm and one of the log for severe injury; all of these were attended with satisfactory results.

Amongst the other operations may be mentioned one of successful trephining for compound depressed fracture of the frontal bone, and one of excision of the hip-joint for advanced stramons disease. The notes of these cases were read before the Hongkong Medical Bociety, the patients being present, the latter being also

> Some time ago, H.E. Li Hung-chang petitioned the Throne to remove the duty from all cereals in order that they might more easily reach the starving poor, of whom the numbers had been so largely increased by the late floods, and whose condition is such a frightful one, without home or food and in many instances bereft of their nearest and dearest friends. His Imperial Majesty through the Taungli Yamen bas graciously sanctioned the Viceroy's request, and has ordered that money be distributed amongst the indigent people. His Excellency Li Hungchang is to buy up large quantities of rice, wheat, and millet, engage trustworthy officials to take charge of it, and see that it is sold under cost price to the poor, for, even free of du y, the grain dealers, of left to themselves

Upon the introduction, through the representations of Governor Bowen to the Colonial Office, of some small share of the representative element in the nomination of unofficial members of the Legislative Council, Mr. MacEwer was a candidate in January. 1884, for the seat to which the Bench of Justices had the right of nomination, and ran Mr. F. Before entering the Council, Mr. MacEwan had been for some time a member of the original Sanitary Board. As the deliberations of that body were not open to the public we cannot speak with much certainty what he did there, but we know that he was a strong advocate for a thorough reform in the sanitation of the town, and on entering the Legislative Council his assistance to the consideration of the Public Health Bill proved of exceptional value. Another matter that attracted Mr. MacEwan's attention was the want of suitable accommods. tion for Chinese lunstics, and it was mainly owing to his representations that the Government was brought to recognise the necessity of providing an asylum for this land question is for from settled. The ful and heise were both up there a day or two age enquiring into the matter. The Taotai is very angry because the building is going up. I hear the value of the site is only about $50. What a storm in a tea cop and all over such a pattry business! Chinese officials have a good many things to learn yet before they know what is best both for themselves and the people.

The Methodist Episoopal Mission at this place have started a Printing Press at the port and already its seems to have it hands full of Chinese work. This enterprise will, without doubt, be a uncoesa; there is a great field before it. The Hoei Pao, a monthly paper in Chinese, is published here and is having a good sale. This kind of work will bring a rich harvest of results in the future. — Daily News correspondent.
